Becure seats at Benham & Co.'s for the Concert to-night.

To-night a Complimentary Concert is to be given to Albert R. Parsons, at Masonic Hall,

Major McClure sold, yesterday, his splendid saddle horse for $800. This is considered by many good judges the finest horse ever in this city. He was bought by a good judge of horses, and will brobably be taken to the State Fair.

Remember, the celebrated Necromancer, Houdin, is to open at Masonic Hall, on Monday night, September 4th, 1865. Houdin has a reputation of being one of the most adept in the black art, and his performances are said to be wonderful. His celebrated daughter, Catharine, is with him.

A committee of the Portland City Counon are investigating the gas question, and have come to the conclusion that the city can supply itself at $1 50 per thousand feet. In Philadelphia, after the 1st of October, the price will be reduced to consumers to $2 50 or $2 75 per thousand. Is there no remedy for Indianapolis?

To night a Complimentary Concert is given of this city, at Masonic Hall. Prof. Owen is Director. The musical entertainments given by our home talent this year have been largely patronized, and have proved themselves deserving of the public. The entertainment of to-night promises to be equal to those given heretofore.

POLICE MATTERS -Frank McNeeley was drunk. McNeeley came down with the requisite $3 and costs, after which he was discharged

Charles Boyd and Thomas Johnson were held to answer on the charge of grand larceny, and in default of bail were remanded to juil. These are the fellows who robbed the safe of the Bellefon taine Railroad Company some time since. They have a sure thing on a term in the penitentiary.

THE NEW YORK STORK -This old-established retail dry goods house, the most extensive in the State, and familiar as a household word all over Indiana, still maintains its supremacy. The throng of customers which crowd it daily is the best evidence that it is the place to way from Europe, where he has been for several months preparing for the fall trade. And, to make room for the new stock, the goods on hand have been marked down to the lowest limit, thus offering great inducements to the purchaser.

IMPORTANT RAILROAD MEETING - A meeting will be held in Spencer, Owen county, on Thursday, the 7th of September, for the purpose of organizing a Company to construct a railroad between Vincennes and Indianapolis, at which citizens along the line of road, and others inter ested, are expected to be present. As this will be a most important road to this city, we hope our business men and capitalists will attend it, prepared to take stock necessary to secure the organization, and complete the road. Unless we get this road, Southwestern Indiana will be cut off from us, and that trade turned to Cincinnati. If we expect to build up a wholesale trade here, and make this a manufacturing point, this important road must be secured. Let all interested in the future of our city see to it that a good delegation attend this meeting.

THE HANLONS ARE COMING - Cincinnati and Louisville have been profoundly excited for a month with the miraculous achievements of the Spaulding, Rogers and Hanlon Combination Old Brown Cherry, Port, Claret Troupes, whose announcement to appear here next Monday appears in our amusement column. They have been eclipsing all the popular enter tainments in Europe for the past ten years, and are now pursuing an uninterrupted career of J. McNAMARA. professional victories in the United States. For two weeks their marvelous feats have been the theme of the Cincinnati press, and it is said that more visitors have flocked to Pike's Opera House where they gave their entertainments, than during FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC LIQUORS, the same time previous since the House was built. They bring with them a portable theatre, arranged expressly for the comfort of the audience and the proper presentation of these dis-

12 The reception business is what a vulgar fellow would term "played out" At least, there has been none for over a week, and there is no telling when we may be trested to another. The stream of gratitude, that rushed forth with a generous impetuosity at first from the welling hearts of "those in authority," is, using another vulgar phrase, "dried up," and a recuperating process has to be gone through with after each reception. We remember one where the choleric orator was said to have imbibed his inspiraration from a "john," but when inspiration comes in such questionable shapes it generally results in making an ass of the inspirited individual, as was the case on the occasion alluded to. Once or twice a week, during the entire summer, have these receptions taken place, and in the general summing up of the result of good ac complished to the soldiers by the empty parade of aspiring individuals and frothy, hifalutin declamation, we write it thus: 01.

No promotions were recorded at the office of the Adjutant General yesterday. It is probable that but few more promotions will be made. and those few confined to persons who, by or through some merit, should be advanced in military grades. So silent and so swift has been the change from the "pomp and circumstance of glorious war" to the return of peaceful pursuits, that we hardly recognize it, except in the absence of the details of bloody battles or movements of armies, that we were accustomed to read in our morning papers. Where, but a few months since, No. 37 East Washington Street, country. We should at once commence the du- era, which was prevailing to some extent at every side resounded with preparations for war. and the sounds of strife and carnage came to us on every wind, peace has extended her olive wand, and her handmaid, prosperity, gladdens and cheers the desolate places until verily the man's heart is filled with thankfulness. It is true some of the ravages of the great conflict still remain behind, and much around which the veneration and regard of the people had built a protection has absolutely perished; yet we rise from the all but general wreck with a puissant strength. It has been some time since we chronicled the rumors "of unsuccessful or successful war," although oppression and deceit, its concomitants, are still practiced. Soon, we hope, receptions will be done away with promotions at an end, and items under the head of "military" will be confined to the chronicling of the holiday training of a harmless militia, when those bags of self-importance under shoulder straps shall have been pricked, and as suddenly Claims against the Government, are invited to call at collapse into obscurity as their conception and growth has been swift. It will be then that returning justice will lift aloft her scale, and something of the old order of things will again bless the people, allay the turbulency of faction, and harmonize the disaffected spirits. Let us pray.
